LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

The results of leaving your loved ones behind without a valid Will can be catastrophic. Your Last Will & Testament is a vital document that ensures the following:

- Your last wishes will be delivered upon
- Your bequests are binding and not dictated to by intestate succession
- Your children's inheritances avoid the governmental "Guardian Fund" and are preserved in their own trust for their sole benefit
- Inheritances are precluded from subsequent marital contracts
- The appointment of capable, professional and accountable persons to execute your deceased estate and manage the testamentary trust assets thereafter

DRAWING UP A WILL

Quattro Wills and Estates offer FREE Wills and Estate planning. Discounted Executor fees and personal consultation at your own convenience

Top 5 consequences OF NOT HAVING A WILL

- 01 Without a Will, the SA government decides how your Estate is distributed.
- 02 Your Partner may be left with nothing if you are not married, or an ex-Partner may benefit if you have not updated your Will when your relationship ended.
- 03 Your children may not inherit anything, your Estate could pass to the Government Guardian's Fund, or a Guardian could squander the inheritance.
- 04 If your wishes are not documented, family feuds can ensue regarding who gets what assets.
- 05 Without an appointed professional Executor, the government is in control of the process.
